Auxiliary Police Volunteer Sign-up Starts Tomorrow

PLAN PERMANENT, TRAINED GROUP OF POLICE RESERVES

Organization and training of Upland's auxiliary police force which will place it on a basis second to none as a body to provide local police protection and enforcement in times of emergency or disaster is about to be undertaken on a scale in keeping with the objects and aims to be attained, it is revealed today in the appeal of Chief of Police E. L. Mueller for volunteers.

APPLY TOMORROW

Taking of the applications of those who wish to enlist for training and service in the auxiliary police corps will start at Upland police station at 9 a.m. tomorrow, Chief Mueller declared. Men, to be eligible for service, must be between the ages of 21 and 51, and must have other than a 1A selective service classification, which means that preference will be given to men with dependents who are not subject to immediate induction into the armed services, the chief explained.

First object of the drive for enlistments, Chief Mueller pointed out, is to build up the numerical strength of the department by adding to those already enrolled as civilian defense auxiliary police officers. Second step toward bringing the auxiliary organization up to an effective standard will be the immediate institution of a complete training program, he affirmed.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The auxiliary force, he declared is not to be reorganized just for the "duration," but on a permanent basis to be ready to act at all times. He promised that the training will be interesting, and that, upon completion, each man will receive a certificate of graduation. Completion of the training, he pointed out, will entail a very definite responsibility to the community. He also expressed the hope that an organization should be developed which would be a civic asset and achievement and in which the community could take great pride.

Chief Mueller said that the city now is investigating the possibilities for furnishing members of the auxiliary police force with uniforms and official identification badges, as well as such other equipment as may be ordered by the Office of Civilian Defense.

THREE DIVISIONS

In the reorganization and training of the auxiliary corps it is planned to develop three division in the service. These, Chief Mueller said, would consist of (1) a mounted troop, (2) a motor patrol with motorcycles, motor scooters and motorglides, and (3) a general staff whose duty it would be to ride in patrol cars and function as regular officers.

Briefly outlining the training program for the auxiliary units, Chief Mueller said that this would be given by the highway patrol aided by federal and state officials, the district attorney's office, the military and local educational institutions. The training will include a study of the penal laws of the state and city ordinances, as well as certain aspects of military and martial law. There also will be instruction in first aid and in gas and bomb procedure, together with points on sabotage and espionage to provide a working knowledge of these now highly important phases of defense.

Commenting on the aim to build a permanent organization to augment the regular police force, Chief Mueller also pointed out the need to be prepared for the great industrial growth which is to take place here in the immediate future. It will bring new and more diversified problems with which the community must be fully organized to cope, he said.

Leaving Lights on In Homes Conflicts With Blackout Law

Residents going away for an extended or even a few days' vacation are expressly cautioned not to leave lights burning in their homes. If they practice this time-honored protective measure this year, they may return home to find a stiff fine or jail sentence awaiting them.

The country is at war. This locality is subject to blackouts at any time. An ordinance was enacted by Upland city council this winter imposing heavy penalties for failure to turn out lights during a blackout. So leaving lights on while away for vacation might prove embarrassing as well as costly should a blackout occur at such a time.

Residents who may be leaving their homes vacant during short vacation periods are asked to advise Upland police of their absence. The police will be glad to cooperate and give extra patrol service while they are away, it is declared by Chief of Police E. L. Mueller.

McMASTERS PLANS GAS MASK DRILLS

Gas masks have been issued by army officials to Harvey McMasters, chief observer in the local air warning system, and now every observer in the system is to learn the use of the mask.

In the event of an air raid, the persons in charge of the observation post at the time will have to be prepared to remain on duty, and the proper donning of a gas mask is part of that preparation.

Mr. McMasters announced today that E. Tweed Stone will demonstrate the use and care of a gas mask in the city hall on two evenings, July 14 and 21.

Every member of the air warning system is urged to attend one of these demonstratoin meetngs. It is absolutely essential, Mr. McMasters said, that every observer understand how to use a gas mask and that he be prepared for any eventuality.

Mr. Stone will give the demonstration at 7:30 p.m. on both July 14 and 21.

RED CROSS NEEDS WORKERS AT ONCE

Needs of men in the nation's armed forces do not lessen in hot weather, and neither must the Red Cross work, said Mrs. Harry W. Flowers, production chairman for the Upland Red Cross chapter.

The chapter faces the task of making 2000 garments during the coming months and Mrs. Flowers is sending out an S. O. S. call for help in sewing and knitting.

During the hot weather, she said, attention will be given particularly to sewing on cotton materials.

She called attention to the fact that the garments the chapter now is making will be kept ready for use for "our own boys".

American forces, more and more, are entering the war on all fronts and the Red Cross must follow them wherever they go, as well as care for those in service at home.

As soon as they possibly can be made, Mrs. Flowers must ship out 100 ditty bags and 100 sewing kits.

These articles must be made and sent to headquarters as soon as possible and Mrs. Flowers is needing immediate assistance in the work.

Just a few days ago Mrs. Flowers shipped 600 garments to the terminal station at Ogden, Utah, where they will be held ready for any emergency.

FREE PICTURES AND ADDRESS AT MASS MEETING SUNDAY

Upland China Relief funds today totaled $841.01. The sum of $1,000 is being sought in Upland.

Arranged by Dr. Samuel Hughes, United China Relief chairman for Upland, and sponsored by the churches of the community and the civic organizations, the community meeting to be held Sunday evening in the Upland Elementary school auditorium is expected to draw a capacity audience.

Purpose of the meeting, at which an outstanding program will be given, is to stimulate interest in China and in her magnificent struggle against the invading Japanese.

The speaker, Madam S. F. Huang, noted Chinese woman now living in Claremont, will appear in the native costume of her country. She is recognized as a speaker of unusual ability.

Another special feature of the program will be the showing of the sound motion picture, "Western Front", made at great expense by professional producers and actors.

This is not a war picture and does not show actual fighting, the greater part of the film being used to reveal the beauty of China and Chinese life. It helps one to realize more fully why the Chinese are fighting so desperately and so stubbornly to save their country.

The program will be opened with a period of community singing led by Mrs. D. J. Cameron.

Mayor Eugene Nisbet will present the speaker. Ernest Camfield will be in charge of the picture, members of the Lions club will serve as ushers, and Rotarians will take the silver offering.

No admission will be charged, all seats being free. The offering will be entirely for the United China Relief fund. The public is cordially invited to attend.

SOUTH AMERICAN WAR EFFORT SEEN

For eight months he traveled by airplane to all parts of South America and so Theodor Schmid knows something of what is going on in the country that is part of the "Allied Nations" in World War No. 2.

Mr. Schmid, the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Von Stein, 157 North Euclid avenue, and Mrs. Schmid and his daughter have just arrived from the extended tour. For a number of years, until the war intervened, Mr. Schmid was in China as an agent for a large American cotton firm.

"The people to the south are strongly back of the war program, even though South America probably will never add much to the military effort," Mr. Schmid conjectured in covering in a general statement all of the nations. "That goes for Argentina, which is considered a neutral." He analyzed Argentina as a nation whose people were against Hilter, but whose leaders for various reasons preferred not to take sides.

Mr. Schmid reported that hundreds of thousands of Japanese, Germans and Italians lived in South America and that these foreigners had more or less influence on the nations' policies. He said the Japanese were under strict control and that the other "enemies" were closely watched.

"For several years a boom has been going on partly because of the war program and partly because so many weathy South Americans were unable to visit Europe, so they stayed there and spent their money," the returned traveler said.

No South American country has either a strong army or navy, according to Mr. Schmid.

Through his long residence in China, Mr. Schmid has become intimately acquainted with the Orient. Many terrible years lie head for China unless the allied nations are able to send in war supplies soon, he said.

Take That Last Pound of Rubber to Nearest Gas Station Tonight, Pronto!

Between the time The Upland News is delivered this afternoon and the time most of Upland service stations are closing tonight, there will be a period of several hours, more or less.

These are the zero hours in which to snap back at the Jap with every scrap, every ounce of rubber upon which Uplanders can lay their hands and deliver it to Upland service stations which may still be open by the end of each family rubber roundup.

111,000 POUNDS

A survey of Upland service stations at noon today revealed that Uplanders have contributed over 111,000 pounds, 55½ tons, of rubber to the nation-wide drive.

Yesterday local service stations closed for the afternoon while their operators scoured the city to unearth all possible odds and ends of rubber scraps not yet delivered to them. This effort resulted in the collection of over 2,800 pounds of rubber just yesterday afternoon by the service station men themselves.

BRING RUBBER TONIGHT

The service station men want Uplanders to continue to bring in rubber this evening as long as they are open. There are still several hours left this evening or families to organize fine-tooth rubber hunts through their homes and get it in to the stations.

Joe Seitz and Henry Dybsand both declared that their stations would stay open at least until 10 p.m., or as long as people kept coming in with rubber. Other service stations said that they would close at the followng hours:

Pathfinder, 9 p.m.; Hall's, 8 p.m.; Martinez, 9 p.m.; Maxwell's, 8 p.m.; Rowe's, 8 p.m.; Union, 7 p.m.; Brian's, 7 p.m.; Pete's, 8:30 p.m; Waterman's, 6 p.m.; Wright's, 6:30 p.m.

Marriage License Deputy Appointed To Serve Upland

Upland now has its own Gretna Green it is revealed in the announcement that Mrs. Fred H. Jacobs has been deputized to take marriage license applications at 421 Eighth avenue. There is no extra charge for the service here.

This new service has been made possible in Upland to accommodate local couples and to save them the 40-mile round trip to the court house in San Bernardino. It is possible, too, that the extension of marriage license service to Upland is designed to save tires, thereby making it possible for couples to plan more extended honeymoons.

Upland Firemen Check Red Hill Meandering Fire

Fire of undetermined origin racing out on several tangents, burned over about two acres of brush and grass in the wash at the rear of Red Chief auto court, bordering on the Red Hill drive approach to the country club, shortly after 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Upland fire department responded to the alarm and put the blaze under control until it burned out. One of the forestry department fire trucks also arrived at the scene to assist. No damage was caused, it was said by Fire Chief J. W. Voth.

Mrs. Maude Goyen of San Bernardno, who is convalescing from a severe injury received in a fall several weeks ago, came over on Thursday to visit her mother, Mrs. S. J. Brooks, 572 East Arrow highway, and her three sisters. She will return home this evening.

Sleepy Motorist Dozes; Finds Self In Orange Grove

"Sleepers given beds" is a common phrase in the monthly reports of Upland police department, and is just the quaint custom of giving some wanderer a bed for the night. Now, "sleepers given roost in orange trees" is due to become about as common parlance, even as it is in a fair way to becoming a common occurrence along Foothill boulevard.

About 8:15 a.m. Thursday, Everett E. Morgan, 192 East G street, Colton, became the second motorist in about a month to go to sleep at the wheel of his car and wake up to find himself roosting in an orange tree. Traveling west on Foothill, Morgan went to sleep just west of Fourth avenue, whereupon his car crossed the highway, hit the curb and followed it for about 20 feet, and then heeled over into an orange grove. Score: No injuries to Morgan; front of car damaged; slight damage to orange tree.

Rev. McCartney Is Claimed by Death

Rev. Ernest L. McCartney, a resident of Upland for many years, died yesterday in Palo Alto, he having gone north several weeks ago. He was a patient in the Stanford university hospital at the time of his death.

Word was received by The Upland News late this afternoon from Palto Alto that the Rev. Mr. McCartney had passed away. No mention was made in the letter concerning the funeral arrangements.

The Rev. Mr. McCartney maintained a residence on San Antonio Heights. He greatly enjoyed visiting with friends and relatives and much of his time in recent years was spent away from Upland.

Where Are Cars of Yesteryear? They're Retired---Not Re-tired!

Are there fewer cars in Upland than there were in February? Are motorists tires beginning to go the way of all rubber? Or isn't it worth it to many motorists to pay to keep their cars rolling for a questionable few months' thin tread remaining on their tires?

The answer to these questions may be found in the results of the sale of the 1942-43 auto use tax stamps recently concluded by Upland postoffice, and announced today by Postmaster O. P. Brady.

In February, Upland postoffice sold 2,620 of the auto stamps at $2.09 each. The investment was low, and most people could count on their tires carrying them through to the July stamp sale.

July sales of the auto stamps by the postoffice totaled 2,220 at $5 a toss. The ante was doubled, and a lot of motorists had probably worn out the last thin tread, or it had worn so thin that the remainder would not outwear the $5 it would cost to spread the last of it on the highway.

So, exactly 400 fewer car owners put out for the 1942-43 auto stamp and they can be chalked up as the first local casualties of a war that bounced all the way back from the rubber forests of the Far East with a resounding snap. It is no unusual sight most any day now to witness several cars a day making their clattering way along Foothill boulevard on one or two tireless rims.

February sales of auto stamps at the lower price took up the slack by sheer numbers to exceed July stamp sales by $5,475.80 to $5,100.

CITIZENS MUST RENEW RIGHT TO VOTE BY JULY 16

Registration by July 16 means a vote in the August 25 primaries, is the admonition sounded today by Upland registrars of voters, who report the recent registration of 149 voters.

New residents, newly naturalized citizens, or residents who have changed precincts or who failed to vote in the last general election must register promptly to insure their voting rights next month. Next Thursday, July 16, is the last day for registration in order to be eligible to vote in the primaries.

Upland residents may register with any of the three following registrars: Mrs. Harry Plum, chief registrar, will register voters evenings at her home, 484 Second avenue; Judge Fred H. Jacobs will take registrations days or evenings at 421 Eighth avenue; Mrs. Frank C. Wiley will register voters from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Upland chamber of commerce, 130 East Ninth street.

New Victory Stamp Is Now on Sale at Upland Postoffice

With V-Mail instituted for American soldiers overseas, Victory postage is now in order for Americans at home for the duration, it is announced by Postmaster Orton P. Brady, who says that the new three-cent violet Victory stamps went on sale at Upland postoffice on Monday.

For those who have not seen the new stamp, it bears an American fighting eagle with its wings spread in the symbolic "V". This new stamp, it is said by Upland's postmaster, is to be the standard three-cent stamp for the rest of the war period, which means until American Eagles all over the world are triumphant in final victory.

LIONS ARE TOLD OF CITRUS STUDY

While citrus growers are busy producting the finest possible fruit, research chemists are continually working to find new citrus by-products, better ways of handling the fruit and analyzing the citrus contents, according to P. W. Rohrbaugh, who spoke at the Upland Lions club meeting at noon yesterday. The meeting was held in the Red Hill Country club house.

Mr. Rohrbaugh, in the research department of the Exchange Orange Products Co., explained in detail some of the projects under way in his department. The chemist resides in Upland at 560 North Euclid avenue and works in the laboratory at the Ontario plant of the company.

The official illustrated with slides the affects of ethelyene gas on fruit, this being one of the problems presented by a packing house belonging to the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

"Some lemons can be stored for only three months, while others can be stored for a longer period," Mr. Rohrbaugh explained, in citing another phase of his work. "And so it is up to us to determine what makes the difference in the quality of the fruit and to give the growers the benefit of our studies."

The speaker said that research men are giving constant study to the possibilities of new markets for citrus.

J. Emory Sargent was program chairman.

Clarence Gray, manager and coproprietor of Walker's market, was inducted as a new member of the club, this phase of the meeting being in charge of Past-President Leigh Thompson. L. A. Fox, local Santa Fe agent, spoke briefly on some of the improvements made by the rail line.

First Aid For Upland

Extensive Preparations For Emergencies Reviewed In The News Today

Frst aid for people in the Upland district — and how!

Scores of eager residents have prepared themselves for service in time of need by attending the Red Cross first aid classes and by enlisting in other defense activities here.

A comprehensive word picture of the extensive preparations for local emergencies is given in today's Upland News. On pages one, four, five and six are interesting, informative news stories about many phases of the first aid program.

A circular, headed, "First Aid Chart," is also enclosed with The News to assist local people in preparing for emergences. It is suggested that this chart be kept for reference.

BRADY URGES USE OF SOLDIER V-MAIL

V-Mail service, which has been instituted by Uncle Sam for the purpose of expediting the volume and frequency of delivery of correspondence to U. S. service men overseas, is not as yet being accorded general use by local residents, it is said by Postmaster Orton P. Brady.

The new letter service, which employs the use of a standardized letter sheet which folds into a self-forming envelope and is transmitted either directly or by photographic reproduction, has been made available for public use only recently. Printed V-Mail forms are available free of charge at Upland post office, and in order to popularize their use, Postmaster Brady is placing them in various stores about town, where they also may be secured without cost.

Mr. Brady suggests that those desiring to use them ask for them at the stores or call for them at the post office. They also may be secured at Upland chamber of commerce.

Use of the V-Mail letter forms will assure speedier communication with soldiers outside continental United States, Mr. Brady declared, as these letters receive preferred handling in all post offices, and are given faster dispatch ahead of all ordinary types of mail to soldiers.

TIRES, TUBES STILL STRONG FAVORITES

Tire and tube sales totaling 13 have been certified during the first quarter of July, it is announced by L. R. Bradley, chairman of Upland War Price and Rationing board.

The following individuals were granted certificates by the board to purchase either tubes or new or recapped tires for passenger cars or trucks:

William K. Vernon, Camp Baldy; Ross G. Ready, 289 West Ninth street; Roy Palmer, 1294 East Ninth street; Rupert A. Dishman, 703 Amethyst avenue, Alta Loma; Karl J. Free, 110 Third avenue; David O. DuPuy, Smith avenue, Etiwanda.

SET $5,000 LIMIT SO SCHOOL WILL BE ABLE TO "GET BY"

Any school boy's dream that Upland junior high school will not be repaired in time for the resumption of classes on next September 20 is due to be shattered right now by reason of the fact that today Upland board of education is advertising for bids on the work of renovating the school premises damaged by fire this spring.

However, all the fire damage will not be repaired at this time. Emergency action is being taken in view of reticence by WPB to issue a priority number for complete repairs immediately, it is said by Superintendent Harold W. Cook. So, he explains, the board is going to go ahead and do what it can, even though a great deal will be left undone. Only enough renovation work will be undertaken so that the staff will be able to "get by" with the essential school program, he said.

REPAIRS UNDER $5,000

Renovation work which is planned will come well within the $5,000 limit which is allowed for public buildings without other approval or priority rating, Mr. Cook said. In order to assure operating condition for the junior high school, the board is calling for alternate bids so that it will be able to do everything possible to make the building usable. Bids are to be opened at 7 p.m. at the board meeting on Monday evening, July 27.

Projected conditioning of the building calls for closing off the cafeteria and shop section of the building where the heaviest damage occurred. This means that seventh and eighth grade boys will not be able to take up woodwork this fall, and use of the storage and athletic rooms will not be available.

ATHLETICS AS USUAL

However, this will not interfere with the school athletic program, Mr. Cook affirmed, as some other convenient room will be used for dressing. Neither will it curtail noon lunches, as Elementary and junior high school lunch periods will be staggered so junior high students who desire to buy their lunches will be able to do so at the Elementary school cafeteria.

Other necessary work will include the cleaning of classroom and corridor walls and repainting. Floors will be resanded and waxed. Broken window panes will be replaced and some plastering will be necessary. Lavatory facilities are unimpaired, even though rest rooms in the damaged rear wing of the building cannot be used.

AUDITORIUM CLEANUP LATER

Although the auditorium and some other sections of the building need cleaning, their condition is not so bad but it will be possible to use them for the time being and leave the final renovation to such time that it is possible to properly complete the entire repair project.

So school will open on time September 20, all vacation day dreams of pupils to the contrary notwithstanding.

Food Advertising Fund Offered But —No Sales Slips

This Is a Friendly Community—Make the Newcomers Realize That

You saw strangers in Upland today?

Did you show an interest in them or did you give them the cold shoulder?

More new residents are here than at any previous time. Defense activities are taking young men and often times families from here. At the same time, families are coming here because of the defense and military activities in the adjacent communities.

The Kaiser steel mill project has resulted in a score or more of new families locating here. Various other defense activities are the cause for a constant stream of potential residents coming into the community.

People unacquainted with a community naturally need a little direction. And they surely appreciate it.

"May I help you?"

How wonderful that sounds to a stranger in our midst.

Ernest Tweed Stone, who has just returned from a wonderful international convention of the Rotary clubs, received much from the convention, but the thing he talks more about is the very friendly attitude shown by the Canadians toward visitors.

Some call this a "friendly community". It really is, and let's make our newcomers and visitors realize that.

First Aid Workers Here Deserve Recognition; They Are Ready to Serve City

Knowledge of first aid is always important.

In war time it is doubly so. Many scores of men and women in the Upland district answered the first calls for volunteers to take first aid courses. They wanted to be ready for any emergency and they wanted to do their part in helping their fellow citizens if it ever were necessary.

The Upland News is today paying tribute to the people who faithfully attended first aid classes and who have become better qualified to serve. Elsewhere in today's issue are the names of all persons who have been "graduated" from the classes. There are also news stories about the general first aid and emergency program.

What is ahead for Upland and the Pacific Coast as the "theater of war", no one knows. That's why this community has had the first aid courses. That's why many individuals today are prepared to give aid.

The rest of us who didn't take the instruction sometime may have personal reasons for deeply thanking those individuals who have given of their time and energy.

Work Relief Projects Should Be Dropped

"Help Wanted".

That sign is out here. Newspapers from other southland cities carry many classified advertisements seeking help. One newspaper recently carried a large display advertisement pleading for mechanics.

Sad as may be the cause, still the fact remains that the war has changed things in recent years. There is no unavoidable unemployment. There is a scarcity of help. Men are needed in industries, in citrus groves and in virtually every line of work.

This brings us to the question: "Why should there be any public money spent on work projects?"

The work relief program filled a great need in the period of unemployment.

That period is past; the cycle has ended. We are entering a new era.

A Disquieting Condition

A disquieting situation as regards the per capita prevalence of tuberculosis within the county is presented by L. E. Mitchell, president of the San Bernardino County Tuberculosis Association. While in the nation at large the death rate of this disease is approximately 44 for each 100,000, the county statistics show twice this, according to Mr. Mitchell.

In other words, the condition appears to prevail that people in this county run twice the risk of infection as exists in other parts of the United States.

The figures are impressive, and we have no doubt that Mr. Mitchell's presentation is true. A loyal Californian could not be convinced, however, until he had the figures on the percentage of such cases that were contracted in this state as compared with those that developed in other states and came here in a desperate attempt to be cured.

California, for its ideal climate, has long been a haven for those suffering from various types of pulmonary ailments. Citing per capita illness statistics for a restricted area would hardly be fair unless the number of hospitals and the number of patients being treated were accounted for. The same for the West, to which thousands flock every year for health benefit.

At the same time, we heartily agree with Mr. Mitchell that support of the association in its effort to control thi dread disease is extremely important. The association is deserving of our wholehearted cooperation.—Colton Courier.

Temperance is the firm and moderate dominion of reason over passion and other unrighteous impulses of the mind.—Cicero.

Of the $5,923,311 in property taxes levied in San Bernardino county for the year which closed on June 30, a total of 13.6 per cent was for general city taxes, 40.6 per cent was for county purposes, 38.6 per cent for school districts, and 7-2 per cent for special districts, an analysis of property tax levies in California counties, made public today by California Taxpayers' association, shows.

ROTARY CHANGES CLUB LEADERS IN "DEBUNKING" RITES

For 12 months the president of the Upland Rotary club does his best in presiding and in the general conduct of many club activities.

Then, when his term is up, some fellow club member spends considerable time in telling him what a rotten job he did. This is just the Rotarians' idea of having a grand time on installation night.

Frank K. Nichols is no longer president of the Upland Rotary club. He was "demoted" in the usual derogatory manner Tuesday night with the cryptic comments coming at length from Dr. Ralph D. Ryan, who is noted for his lack of brevity on such occasions.

Incidentally, Ernest Tweed Stone is the new president. He was present at the meeting in the Red Hill Country club house just to get an idea of what is likely to happen to him in July, 1943.

He was handed a gavel, with fitting remarks by Past-President P. H. McQuillen.. Formality is lacking when the Rotary members and their wives unite for the annual "charter night" program and when a change occurs in the club leadership.

After Mr. Nichols was severely scorched and after he had been subjected to an "arrest" for his conduct and placed in a striped suit and sentenced, a few kind words were said in his behalf.

Don E. Palmer, another past-president, has a hobby of making gavels, the hand-piece presiding officers use. Mr. Palmer gave the retiring president the gavel he had used during the year as a momento of his service. It had been appropriately inscribed.

Past presidents were in charge of the program. A. C. Reynolds was the general chairman, with Mr. McQuillen presiding. Owen E. Atwood and Richard G. Manley, garbed in policemen's uniforms, handled the "arrest" of the retiring president.

Harlow S. Wilson, secretary, was highly complimented for his work by Mr. McQuillen and Mr. Nichols. Mr. Wilson gave a brief report on the club's finances, membership and activities.

Lynn Peters served as accompanist. Mrs. Earl H. Johnson, who accompanied at the piano at many of the meetings during the year, was presented a gift.

In accepting the club presidency, Mr. Stone gave a brief, forceful talk on the theme of the international convention: "Learning How to Live With Each Other". The convention was held in Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Stone having just returned to Upland.

Club directors for the coming year are Mr. Stone, Mr. Nichols, John W. Shepperson, Dr. Ralph D. Ryan, Paul G. Hottel and Ellery Wright. Dr. Ryan has been named sergeant-at-arms, and Harry Wright will be program chairman.

STILL SEEK FIRE TRUCK RELEASE

Renewing hope that Upland fire department may yet receive delivery of its frozen fire truck, City Manager R. G. Manley reports that he has asked the assistance of the San Bernardino County Defense Council in seeking to thaw out the vehicle.

The county council has forwarded a resolution to the W.P.B. in Washington requesting that the fire truck chassis, purchased by the city prior to December 28, be released. The city has the necessary equipment for the truck, while the vehicle is standing idle during one of the most dangerous fire years in this section, and at a time when the government has urged fullest development of all available equipment.

STREET WIDTH STANDARD SET

The matter of Palm avenue curbs came up for discussion before the city council at its meeting Thursday, bringing with it the matter of the necessity for determining street widths.

Discussed many times by councils in the past, the matter of establishing a definite policy regarding standardization of street widths has gone unsolved, it was said at the meeting. In view of this fact, City Manager R. G. Manley asked that the present council go on record, adopting a positive recommendation.

Following discussion of the problem, Councilman Hottel presented a motion that the city set a standard width for streets as follows: A 66-foot street to have a 36-foot roadway; a 60-foot street to have a 36-foot roadway, and a 50-foot street to have a 30-foot roadway. Seconded by Councilman Goodban, the motion was passed unanimously.

The matter of Palm avenue curbs has been referred to the city planning commission, to be taken up by the commission at a meeting to be held in the city council chamber this Thursday evening, July 9. Palm avenue property owners have been appraised of this meeting by the city manager and are to appear at this meeting to discuss the matter of curb repairs.

WOMEN'S CORPS PREPARED FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Fitting into the Civilian Defense and first aid picture, the Upland-Ontario Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps is a well trained unit ready to act upon a moment's notice in the event of any emergency or disaster, it is declared by Lt. Mabel Lee.

READY TO GO

Women of the corps have received training by which they are expected to act individually or as a unit. In event of any circumstance requiring the service of the organization, troopers have their individual orders to report to the first aid center in the nearest school, while others are to assemble at a predesignated center where their equipment is maintained and from there to proceed to any disaster center.

Adding to their preparedness for service, members of the corps are all trained in first aid. Corps groups have had seven classes in first aid work given by qualified Red Cross first aid instructors.

SECURING EQUIPMENT

Besides preparing themselves with a knowledge of first aid work, members of the corps also are engaged in building up a necessary reserve of supplies and equipment in readiness for any call. They are providing themselves with first aid kits, necessary bandages, splints, and basic medicinal supplies.

At the present time, Lt. Lee states, there are 25 corps members on call for instant duty should the need arise. They are ready, she affirms to cooperate in every way with all Civilian Defense organizations for the protection and relief of the community.

Planning Vacation Trips? Chamber of Commerce Can Help

Vacationing is still a favorite item in wartime America, and a very necessary one, too, which is encouraged by Uncle Sam as a means to keeping hard-working war workers on their toes fit and conditioned for their exacting jobs, and for the general public as a stabilizer to keep them on an even keel.

To administer to the vacation needs of Upland residents, Upland chamber of commerce is now fully supplied with brand new 1942 vacation folders from all parts of California and from points in nearby states. These have been pouring into the chamber office during the past week, and are available to anyone who desires them.

Especially featured are nearby resorts throughout the Southland the proximity of which afford the vacation advantage of substantial savings on tire treads.

Many vacation prospectuses are displayed in the chamber of commerce window, with many more to be had in the office. Anyone desiring assistance with vacation plans is welcome to call at the chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Frank C. Wiley, assistant secretary, will be glad to supply them with folders and any available information.

Upland Red Cross Chapter Maintains 23 First Aid Stations for Emergency

Under direction of Upland chapter of the American Red Cross, first aid stations, together with trained personnel to man them, have been organized, to operate in event of emergency or disaster.

The stations are assigned so that there is one located in each air raid warden district, with the personnel for each station living within as close a radius as possible. To be set up and operated only in case of emergency, each station is provided with basic supplies. These include different types of bandages, splints, blankets and other paraphernalia.

Stretchers, an important item of first aid equipment, have been supplied through the efforts of the Boy Scouts of Troop 4. The Scouts have made 28 stretchers, which are kept in readiness at Red Cross headquarters on Euclid avenue for dispatch by ambulance and a corps of bearers to any district where they might be needed.

First aid station organization, equipment and personnel is in charge of Mrs. James Paulin. There are 17 of these stations tentatively set up in Upland, with an additional six located in the Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Etiwanda districts, the latter functioning under the local Red Cross chapter. Location of some of the stations is still subject to change.

Women Completing Finger Print Class

The finger print class of the Upland-Ontario Womens' Armbulance and Defense Corps is completing its course soon which has been given at Chaffey night school under the direction of Officer Forrest Shipps of the Ontario police department.

Object of the finger print class is to prepare corps members for taking the finger prints of Upland, Ontario, Cucamonga and Alta Loma school children. This, it is planned, will be done soon after the opening of school in the fall, Lt. Mabel Lee said.

CARRY FIRST AID TO MANY PERSONS HURT IN CANYON

First aid classes are not just for the purpose of training people for the civilian defense job of relieving pain and suffering during war times. For a considerable period of time the Upland chapter of the American Red Cross has maintained a well equipped first aid station at Camp Baldy.

Probably one of the busiest of first aiders who are practicing what they have learned to relieve the pain and injury of others is Mrs. Claude E. Huse, who is in charge of the Camp Baldy first aid station. Mrs. Huse, whose husband is a U. S. forestry ranger at the Camp Baldy guard station, is on the job practically day and night.

Pleasure seekers in the mountains are prone to get into trouble. They fall down rock slides and mountain sides; they crack up with their skiis and get injured by snowballs; their cars fail to negotiate curves; they get bitten by insects and snakes, and all-in-all run about the highest average of injuries incurred by pedestrian accidents.

It is not unusual for Mrs. Huse to be called out in the middle of the night to go with a rescue party to some difficult spot in the mountains to render first aid to an injured hiker. To her energetic work and prompt response many hikers, lost and injured in the crags and canyons of the Baldy country, owe a real debt of gratitude for relief from pain and for proper care administered in time and with understanding.

The highway first aid station is located at the Huse home at Camp Baldy, and is well equipped not only to render first aid in its most commonly accepted form —relief of physical pain and injury—but in addition it is equipped to perform difficult rescue missions so often necessary in the mountain country to bring injured persons back to safety. Amid the icy cold of winter on frozen, slippery slopes or in the sweltering heat of summer, the Camp Baldy station is ready for the double task of first aid and rescue. During the past month of June, nearly 20 persons received first aid treatments at the station.

Equipment of the station consists of all types of bandages, splints, stretchers, sterile pads, blankets, ropes and spikes, thermos bottles, chemical heating pads, and basic medicines.

Famous Claremont Artist's Son Born At Local Hospital

San Antonio Community hospital is becoming the birthplace of the sons of famous Californians and noted Americans these days, the latest arrival being the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Sheets, 532 West Tenth street, Claremont, whose birth occurred Monday, July 6, at 4:17 p. m.

Mr. Sheets, in addition to being head of Scripps college art department in Claremont, is one of the foremost and best known of modern-day artists in the United States. Stables owned by Mr. Sheets in the Padua Hills area are famed for the murals which decorate the interior.

The Claremont artist is a contemporary of Tom Craig, equally famed California artist, who counts Upland as his old home town and whose son also was born at San Antonio Community hospital on June 14 last.

Methodist Pastor Extended Welcome At Church Dinner

Dr. Samuel Hughes, returning to the Upland Methodist church for his fifth year as pastor, was given a cordial welcome at an informal church meeting held on Wednesday evening in Fellowship hall. A large number of members, including many families, were present.

Early in the evening a contributed dish dinner was served, and, opening the program for the evening, Owen E. Atwood, in behalf of the congregation, extended greeting to Dr. Hughes, who made appropriate response.

Reports of various phases of the recent annual conference were given by Mrs. John Engle, Mrs. Frank C. Buffington, and Mrs. Wiley W. Mather.

For the musical part of the program, Charles Mitchell and Jack Porter each sang a selection and Miss Alice Rose Wilson, accompanist, contributed a piano solo.

Dr. Hughes concluded the evening with a comprehensive report of the conference.

The Women's Society for Christian Service, Mrs. Buffington, president, was in charge of arrangements for the evening. Mrs. Harold Stickney presided at the reception.

First Aid Trainees Put Their Training To Good Use Daily

Many persons who have taken first aid training made possible by the Upland Red Cross chapter already have found it to be of great value, not only to themselves, but also in being able to give aid to others.

A few instances of the value of the training are given here, proving, as pointed out by Tweed Stone, that no one knows when or under what circumstances he may be called upon to put into instant practice what he has learned.

John Swoap, Cucamonga, who also is a first aid instructor, recently used his knowledge to good advantage. In an automobile wreck on Foothill boulevard several months ago, a woman was killed and Mr. Swoap was able to prevent the woman's husband and her granddaughter from experiences of extreme shock.

Bert Hendy recently had the misfortune to get dry cement in his eyes, and because of his first aid training he was able to help himself so as to avoid any severe effects from the experience.

Mrs. C. R. Chapman of Ice House canyon had early experience in putting into practice her knowledge of first aid. She attended the Camp Baldy first aid class during the winter, and even before she had finished her course she had an opportunity to demonstrate what she had learned.

One night during a heavy snowstorm a party became marooned near the resort. They were discovered after midnight and brought into the Chapmans' where Mrs. Chapman was able to give them the proper treatment for exposure and frostbite.

These are but a few instances in which a working knowledge of first aid procedure has been of real value and Red Cross leaders also argue strongly for first aid class attendance more generally on the part of the public.

Picnic and Address Enjoyed by Members Of Heights League

Meeting last evening in the Van Ness water gardens for a community picnic, approximately 60 persons heard a particularly interesting talk on landscape gardening.

The occasion was the regular monthly meeting of the San Antonio Heights Community League and the program was preceded by a picnic supper served at tables set in the large rear garden.

Dr. Charles B. Taylor, president of the League, presided and guests were introduced, among them being C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, and Mrs. Grier.

The speaker was Edward K. Hansen, resident of the Heights and landscape gardening expert for Armstrong nurseries.

In discussing the psychological as well as the technical phases of landscape gardening, Mr. Hansen stated that gardens have personalities and that harmony should be established between the garden and the owner, to gain the greatest success.

The landscape gardener, he said, should study the home life of the persons for whom the garden is planned, should know the colors they prefer, even the clothes they wear, and must understand their personalities. Then he must know the complete life history of the plants, the flowers and shrubs he plans to use.

This phase of gardening, Mr. Hansen said, constitutes about 90 per cent of successful landscaping, the other 10 per cent he alloted to the mechanical work.

The picnickers found Mr. Hansen's address especially enjoyable.

Merit is never so conspicuous as when coupled with an obscure origin, just as the moon never appears so lustrous as when it emerges from a cloud.—Bovee.

WANTS EARLY WEED ABATEMENT IN 1943

With vacant lots posted, ordering the removal of weeds at the expense of property owners, the city council expressed the hope that accomplishment of weed abatement might be instrumental in giving a measure of fire protection for the balance of the season.

Councilmen concurred in the opinion that several fires this season might have been averted had weeds been eliminated sooner. Councilman Goodban stated that he considered weed abatement work had been started late this year, and declared that it should be started early next year.

A request by Upland Housing Authority for garbage disposal service for the 18 houses on the authority's site between Campus avenue and Fifth avenue was granted for a six-months period by the council. The collection rate was set at one dollar per month, with the provision that all garbage containers be placed at a central point to facilitate pickup by the city truck.

City Manager Manley told the council that he had received a proposal for purchase of a piece of property owned by the city, the plot in question being located in the wash south of Ninth street near Walker's market and having been acquired by the city originally as a disposal grounds for rubbish. The council recommended that the city manager be empowered to negotiate for the sale of the property.

Mrs. Gee—William, how do you suppose those dozens and dozens of empty bottles got into the cellar?

Mr. Gee—I'm sure I don't know. I never bought an empty bottle in my life.

AMBULANCE CORPS WANTS VOLUNTEERS --ALSO EQUIPMENT

There is a place for women of 40 to 65 to serve with the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps, it is announced by Lt. Mabel Lee. Women who are qualified will make up an auxiliary to the corps and will be able through such service to contribute in a very useful manner to the defense program.

Women desiring to serve with the corps in this group will need to have some knowledge of first aid, but will not be required to participate in the military drill. Their part in the organization, Lt. Lee explains, will be to assist in maintaining first aid kits to see that they are furnished at all times with proper and sufficient supplies; to tear bandages and to be on duty at the corps headquarters, 298 North Second avenue.

NEED EQUIPMENT

Upland-Ontario Women's Defense and Ambulance Corps headquarters is now being installed in office space at the above address located next to the Upland Furniture company in the Mehl building. E. C. Mehl has donated the space for the use of the corps. Two desks, one donated by Owen E. Atwood, and the other supplied by the City of Upland from the old police station, were moved into the headquarters yesterday and form the necleus of much-needed equipment.

Other items of equipment which are desired are a screen with which to partition the room, several chairs and some type of floor covering. Anyone having such materials which they can donate may call Lt. Lee, 316-467 or Upland chamber of commerce 312-103, and arrangements will be made to pick them up.

The corps will welcome volunteers for active duty and for limited service with the auxiliary, and applicants are asked to call Lt. Lee.

ASK COOPERATION TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

With vacation days (daze?) in full swing, Upland motorists are having their hazards with the unpredictable movements of children in streets about town, it was said today by Chief of Police E. L. Mueller, who pointed out the necessity for more caution both on the part of children and motorists.

Children, he said, are in a happy mood, and not as cautious as they are during the regular school year. So at play about town or on their way to the playgrounds they are apt to dart or run into the streets quite unexpectedly.

Chief Mueller asks that parents caution their children in this respect and that motorists too be as careful as possible in order to protect children and aged persons.

He also declares that bicycles must not be ridden on the sidewalks, as this is in violation of the state vehicle code. In addition, bicycle riders should remember to give proper arm signals for turns, should watch out for pedestrians and give them the right-of-way, and be careful not to dart in or out of traffic, he cautioned.

Parents again can help, the chief suggested, by seeing that children have proper instruction for operating their wheels safely. This cooperation will be appreciated by the police and, it is pointed out, will be a great protection to parents themselves, as the law holds them liable in the case of accidents or injuries for which their children may be found responsible.

Upland police, Chief Mueller said, are instructed to enforce the law regarding the operation of and restriction on bicycles.

Mrs. P. L. Cate of East Seventh street, recently received word that her brother-in-law, Jack Dalton, whose home is in Knoxville, Tenn., had been rescued from the ship upon which he was homeward bound from the Canal Zone where he had been doing defense work. He and his companion Hugh Coffman, also of Knoxville, were picked up after spending 23 hours on a life boat, by an army transport, which then brought them safely home.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith of 684 East Seventh street spent the day at Newport Sunday.

FORESTRY CLAMPS DOWN ON SMOKERS

The United States forestry department meant it when it announced last week that smokers would be dealt with severely should they disregard regulations governing smoking within the limits of neighboring national forest areas.

Clyde F. Cole and his wife, Dorothy M. Cole, Compton, were arrested Sunday by Ranger Robert S. Reed of Lower San Antonio guard station, when he apprehended the couple smoking while driving up the canyon road near the guard station. They were arrested, it is said, after they had passed two signs clearly stating that smoking was prohibited in the area.

Brought before Judge Fred H. Jacobs, they were released on their own recognizance, and their case was set for appearance in court here next Thursday, July 16. Minimum penalty on the charge is $10 fine, while the maximum is $300 or six months in prison, or both.

Tot Releases Car Brakes, Goes For Ride, Breaking Tree

"Who needs a driver's license? Anybody can drive a car!", is probably what Baby Mary Louise Baker, 2, thought when she clambered into her father's car last evening and set things going.

Mary Louise released the brake and was off in glee, but it did not last long, for suddenly the car and tot driver bumped to a stop as the machine went over the curb across the street and broke off a tree.

Journey ended, and she uninjured, Otis Baker, 709 Third avenue, her father, reported the incident to Upland police to let them know "how come" one of the city's trees was quite completely severed.

SOLDIERS IN NEED OF BALLS AND BATS

Athletes of all ages, even to the grade school boys, are to have an opportunity—and an obligation— to contribute to the welfare of service men, it is revealed in a letter sent to the Red Cross from the office of the commanding officer, San Bernardino headquarters 39th Air Depot Group.

The letter is a plea for athletic equipment for the soldiers stationed at Chaffey, and listed as urgently needed are 18 softballs, 12 softball bats, 10 pairs of softball shoes, a dozen hard balls (baseballs), six hard ball bats (baseball), one chest protector, a pair of shin guards, and a catcher's mask.

Other equipment needed to supply recreation for the men are four sets of boxing gloves (16-ounce), two footballs, four basketballs, four sets of ping pong paddles, three badminton sets, four sets of horseshoes, and two velley balls and nets.

MEN NEED RECREATION

There is no athletic and recreation fund available for the 39th Air Depot Group and the men, who are doing strenuous training work at Chaffey, are dependent upon the generosity of the people of this district for recreational provision for their off-duty hours. At present these men, who necessarily are under restrictions, have little to occupy their spare time save to stand on the street corners and wish for something to do.

The army officer made his appeal to Red Cross Field Director Voyt in San Bernardino and Mr. Voyt forwarded the letter to Mrs. John B. Craig, chairman of the Upland Red Cross chapter's committee on hospital and camp service.

DONATIONS SOUGHT

This need for the Chaffey soldiers is in addition to and quite apart from the Ontario Air Base day room project, Mrs. Craig explained. The funds recently raised for the day room furnishing are to be used for that purpose.

Mrs. Craig expressed the belief that much, if not all, of the needed equipment could be "dug up" in recreation rooms, attics, basements and closets.

Gifts of these listed articles may be turned over to Mrs. Craig, 740 West Arrow highway, or left at the Upland police station, where Chief Mueller and his staff will see that they are taken care of.

"KEEP IT UNDER 40"-SAVE TIRES

With every radio program driving home a rubber consciousness which carries with it but one connotation — Tires — everyone not on the eligible tire rationing list is concerned with making his present auto treads run as far and as long as it is possible to do.

At least one unknown Uplander has an idea along the conservation line that may be a definite aid to preservation of rubber tire life. A car has been noted parked in the packing house district whose owner attaches large sheets of heavy paper to the fenders on the sunny side, presumably to protect the tires from the disintegrating effect of beating sunlight.

But one of the best means yet devised to save wear and tear on tires and to prolong their mileage is care in observing slower driving speeds. The evidence is conclusive that a person can get from one-fifth to one-half more mileage from his tires just by taking a few minutes longer to get places at speeds from 30 to 45 miles per hour instead of speeds from 50 to 65 or more miles per hour.

Cooperating with the Automobile Club of Southern California, Upland chamber of commerce encourages speed moderation as the best tire saver. Motorists are asked to enlist in the movement to "Keep It Under 40." Distinctive patriotic red, white and blue stickers for car windshields or rear windows are available at Upland chamber of commerce office for the asking.

The stickers proclaim the driver's compliance and urge the other fellow's participation in the "Keep It Under 40" rubber saving drive for drivers. "Patriotic drivers display them. Patriotic drivers obey them!"

Rubber Collections In District Stood 585 Tons Thursday

Due to the splendid cooperation of all the communities, the drive for old rubber, ending today, has been an outstanding success in this area, it was stated today by "Pick" McIver, Petroleum War Council chairman for the district from Etiwanda avenue to the Kellogg ranch.

Collections made by the service stations in this district totaled 585 tons yesterday, according to figures released last night by Mr. McIver. This amount of rubber, he believes, compares very favorably with that collected in other districts of similar size. This figure does not include collections made by service stations since noon Thursday.

Mr. McIver repeatedly expressed his appreciation of the response made throughout his area.

That Rubber Mat...

I walked over it and on it now for several years—Yet this very morning the girl that took a terrif chance on me in the "I Do" ceremony some thirty-four years ago admonished me sternly to "Get That Mat—and don't forget the one in the front office of the family Jallopie". The last morning skirmish unearthed our dog's sacred bone—made of priceless rubber and which had been sanctified during his fourteen years by his daily tussle. In fact, he cut his dear old teeth on said rubber bone. Well, it's just too bad for dear old Zeppie. He can now polish his ivories on bull bones with meat attached.

The "Fambly Cat" is also bereft of his Play Ball which enclosed a jingling bell.

The mat that made for safety in the Bawth tub, a length of rubber lawn hose we could well do without, the rubber gadget whose mission in this vale of salty tears was to prevent water in the kitchen sink from dashing down the flume—plus rubber gloves, tennis shoes and various other gadgets our parent never heard of——

Manchester Boddy of the L. A. Daily News, has been doing a marvellous job to remove the slack in our crusted consciences. Been telling about how much rubber they have unearthed in various places. But the place that earns my startled praise—which kicked me in my lazy pants—was the little desert station of Baker, Calif. You possibly know the place. It's about fifty miles east of Barstow on the road to Las Vegas. There, it's bitterly cold in the winter and hotter'n blazes in the summer. There abide some fifty people, yet these glorious citizens—sons of the true, old west—pulled up their socks and gathered a couple of tons of rubber from the sage brush terrain and in their backyards and service stations. Hats off to our desert neighbors!

This is the last day of the extended period devoted to gathering a national rubber stock pile. I firmly believe that if all of us would devote the balance of the day up to midnight in helping ourselves and our neighbors comb the houses and yards for every available scrap of that precious material we could and would augment Upland's contribution considerably and clear our own consciences—if they need clearing.

Can't get the idea of why I or anyone else should be exempt from military service in defense of the realm or in any spot where, in the main scheme the realm may be defended.

The boys who carry the guns on far-flung land and sea—under the Stars and Stripes—are not intrinsically crazy about war. They know what it is—the suffering and horrors. The men going into training in the various armed services know as well that it will be no grass roots picnic, yet they do it gladly with a smile and a joke because it is the plain duty of a citizen to do his stuff and take his chances with the rest.

Certainly it is no sacrifice to strip every premise of its rubber materials. If the men who are doing the fighting and dying need the tires on our cars and the cars as well, they are surely welcome to ours.

In today's Upland News is enclosed a duplicate of a First Aid Chart which appears in Life and Collier's magazines. First Aid Classes Appeal to Scores Of Defense-Minded; Red Cross Assists

Residents in the district served by Upland chapter of the American Red Cross have been receiving first aid instruction over a period of about two years, but since December 7, 1941, first aid has come into its own as a booming activity, it is told by Mrs. Mary E. Eckerman, president of the local chapter.

About three years ago, Mrs. Eckerman relates, she appointed E. Tweed Stone to be chairman of the chapter's first aid committee. Shortly thereafter Mr. Stone took an instructor's course in first aid work. Under his able direction during the past two years, the Upland Red Cross chapter has developed an efficient first aid system together with an increasing public appreciation of the work.

SMALL BEGINNINGS

Early first aid classes in Upland were small, with sometimes as many as eight or ten persons enrolled, Mrs. Eckerman said. However, it was the continuous and devoted work and service of a few who wanted to be ready to serve in time of need which maintained the local first aid activity at a high pitch ready to expand when the December 7 emergency broke.

From that day on, Uplanders became "first aid conscious" and Red Cross classes swelled in enrollment, multiplied in number, and met with greater frequency. From classes enrolling a handfull of eight to 10, they shot up to classes enlisting from 30 to 70

TRAIN MORE TEACHERS

In a short time classes were more than Mr. Stone could handle alone, with the result that many of Mr. Stone's earlier students entered an instructors' class and prepared themselves to assist in the work by teaching. Today there are 10 qualified first aid teachers aiding Mr. Stone in the instruction of first aid classes under the sponsorship of Upland Red Cross chapter. These include Harvey Gallaugher, C. E. J. F. Lee Hears Jap Radio and Reports On U. S. Prisoner

J. F. Lee, who listens to the radio short-wave broadcasts from Japan when he finds it convenient, recently heard Frank Anderson of Racine, Wis., reporting that he had been taken a prisoner and "that he was being treated better than he had expected".

In following the prisoner's suggestion, Mr. Lee wrote to his parents stating that he had heard the broadcast.

Mr. Lee is in receipt of a letter from Evelyn Anderson Koellner, stating that 47 persons had replied to her brother's request to notify his parents and that they were highly elated over the great interest shown in him.

"I listen to get Japan's angle on the events," explained Mr. Lee, who operates a used furniture store at 184 Second avenue. "Quite often the announcer boasts of some Japan accomplishment, such as the bombing of a 'fort' in Oregon and in Vancouver."

The Uplander also said that President Roosevelt is spoken of in a sarcastic tone by the Japanese. It is customary for the Japanese to have American prisoners speak over the radio and then to follow up with Japanese versions of the war.

THE TOWN PUMP BY Stan
YOUR STANDARD SERVICE MAN

Here's a front row seat to the best show in town!

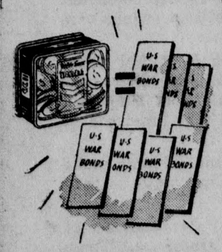

No kidding, if you've never watched a Standard Service Man give your car a grease job, you've missed one of the swellest shows there is. Follow one of us as we work our way around your car—or we'll find you a clean place to sit, if you like—and we'll guarantee to make your eyes pop. Several different types of grease guns take part in our act, and many different kinds of oils and greases. We'll show you, too, the difference between a "cut rate" grease job and a regular "Standard Lubrication". You'll see how an iron clad system keeps us from missing any points—and how "double-checking" insures the safety of your car. Make reservations early!

Guard your Tax Stamp!

Uncle Sam says you have to put your Federal Automobile Tax Stamp where it can be seen—preferably on the lower right-hand corner of your windshield. It has to last a whole year, so be sure to guard it from water damage and theft! Get a free transparent sticker from your Standard Service Man—it's neat, non-advertisey, and complies with all government regulations. Play safe with that $5.00—get your free sticker tomorrow.

Glass Bank holds Seven U. S. Bonds!

Here's an easy way to save for your War Savings Bond purchases! Glass Banks, on sale for 25c wherever Standard Products are sold, hold $11.00 in pennies, $34.00 in nickels—and enough dimes to buy Seven $25 Bonds.

Saturday Is Dividend Day!

A QUESTION IN EVERY ADV.

You will note that in each space is an easy-to-answer question. To qualify for the Dividend Day award, you must answer the questions listed by the firms from which you have saleslips.

For Example—If you have a sales slip from Blank Co., you must write the answer to the Blank. Co. question on the sales slip and have it ready for presentation to the Merchants' Messenger by 6 p. m. Monday.
If you are not going to be home Monday between 6 and 7 p. m., leave your sales slips posted near your front door.

Every adult in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda is eligible to participate in the Upland Merchants' Dividend Day. A directory has been especially compiled to include every house address in these communities.
The dividend sales do not have to be for cash, a "charged" sales slip being acceptable. In all fairness, however, a sales slip for payment on account cannot be eligible for use on dividend day.

READ THE ADVS. AND WRITE ANSWERS TO THE QUESTIONS LISTED BY THE FIRMS FROM WHICH YOU OBTAIN SALES SLIPS.

The Playground nine will join the Upland league, succeeding the Cucamonga Wildcats.

Hospital Zoning Is Not Protested

Second hearing on the rezoning of the former Dr. O. A. Thompson property at the northwest corner of Ninth street and Euclid avenue for the establishment of an osteopathic hospital by Dr. Murray D. Weaver of Ontario was held last night in the city hall by Upland planning commision.

As no one appeared to protest the change in zoning, the hospital project passes from the planning commission to the city council, and will come up for one more hearing to be held by the council. Date for this meeting will be set by the council at its next regular meeting on Thursday, July 16.

Australia normally produces a 40-million-dollar fruit crop.

With two star players missing and with the G. E. nine connecting for 13 hits, the Upland Merchants went down 14 to 3 on the Upland diamond last night.

Rodney Mehl at second and Roy DeWees at left field are two of the best hitters and fielders on the squad and both of them were absent. The Merchants, however, connected eight times, but this effort produced only three runs.

G. E. scored 14 times on 13 hits.

KAISER WINS

Kaiser Co. trimmed the Cucamonga Wildcats to the tune of 11 to 1 in the Upland league on Tuesday night, and Temple, steel mill second bagger, should get much of the credit for the victory.

Hitting three times in four trips to the plate, Temple accounted for two runs. Farrell, the legal counselor for the big company, paying at first base, also connected twice.

Drivers Escape Injury in Ninth Street Collision

Cars driven by Francis W. Wilson, Cal-Aero academy, and Mrs. Roy Creighton, 756 Washington boulevard, figured in a collision about 5:30 last evening on Ninth street just east of Fourth avenue, according to the accident report on file at Upland police station.

The police report stated that Mr. Wilson, eastbound on Ninth street, was making a U-turn when the broadside collision with the westbound machine driven by Mrs. Creighton occurred. Neither driver was injured in the accident, it is said.

Wrong Way Driver Blamed for Night Crash on Euclid

Wrong way traffic on the west drive of Euclid avenue was blamed for an accident in which the southbound car of Mrs. Eleanor Jenkins, 1520 Patterson street, San Pedro, is reported to have collided with the car of J. F. Little, Agua Caliente, at about 2:30 a. m. Thursday morning, according to a report to Upland police.

Mrs. Jenkins told police that the lights of an approaching car driving north on the west drive of Euclid blinded her so that she did not see Mr. Little's car, which was parked along the west curb of the drive, until she was within 50 feet of it. Applying her brakes, her car skidded on loose gravel and continued ahead, striking the rear of the parked car, she reported. Damage to each car is said to amount to about $50.

With his gold braid, the sum of one thousand dollars and his reputation as a man-about-women at stake, the dashing young Captain Jinks maps his campaign to woo the famous opera star.

But that's just half of the famous Clyde Fitch comedy, "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines", which opens at Pasadena Community Playhouse on Monday night, July 13, as the fourth staging in the current Midsummer Drama Festival series of noted American comedies.
